Our Fire Department.

We were told by the Star some days ago that the new employees of the department were much superior to the men who resigned lately because they wouldn't stand the arbitrary actions of the Board of Commissioners. If the action Tuesday night of the firemen is to be a sample of their efficiency we are inclined to say "God help the town—and the underwriters." An alarm was sent Tuesday night stating that there was fire in a house on Smith Street. The "department" turned out, we are told by an eye witness, and made a spectacle of themselves. An engine arrived at the place of the fire, but the hose-cart ran astray and got lost somewhere. Then the cart took a tumble to itself and landed somewhere in the neighborhood of St. Andrews Cathedral—where there was no fire and here one of the hosemen took a tumble and tumbled off the cart. In the meantime the fire got tired and extinguished itself without the assistance of the department, but the impression of the spectators was that although the fire laddies might be very ornamental just now they are not quite as useful as they used to be.

Representing such a clique as he does, the Star man should be the last person to speak of those having dealings in opium, hospitals, filibustering schemes, lotteries, sugar estates, drinking and carousing. Those who live in glass houses should not throw stones.

The Executive and Advisory Councils are in session this afternoon.

LOCAL NEWS.

The rascals sooner or later will have to go! (Hawaiian Star) You bet they will. And you are one of them.

Do not forget the concert by the Misses Albu this evening. A rare treat is in store for music loving people.

The Tiser publishes another fake this morning. We refer to the alleged firemen's schemes. There is no truth in it.

The coffer-dam has been placed in position under the stern of the Mowera. It is worth a visit. Go down and have a look at it.

It is generally believed that the press clippings published in the Star, are changed so as to read favorably towards its own policy.

It was the duty of the Provisional Government to render every possible aid to Commissioner Blount, Mr. Tiser editor. Don't harp on that.

What is the matter with the Tiser editor this morning? He says, Mr. Blount has been treacherous to this government. Sorry he takes that view of it.

A really musical treat, would be a combined concert by the Hawaiian National and the Philadelphia's Bands. We hope to see one arranged shortly.

Go and hear plumber and councilman Emmeluth, reel off his views by the yard, on the "whys" and "wherefores", that the "loyalists" should be turned out of office.

The public is invited to be present at the session of the Councils this afternoon, to listen to the discussion of the subject, "the removals of the rascals (?) from office."

When speaking of eavesdroppers the other afternoon, the Star forgot to mention, how many of such paid characters there are in the employ of the present government. Perhaps it will inform the Tax payers on that point.

How Annexationists Start Rumors.

One of the most stupid rumors "of the day" was the one hashed up and circulated this morning by the Star and annexation gangs. It was in effect, that Her Majesty Queen Liliuokalani was on board of the Champion outside of the harbor. That an enterprising P. G. spy had been watching the war vessel from the side of Punchbowl hill through a spy glass, that he saw the vessel slow down off Waikiki close in shore, and also saw a whale boat with the Queen in it pull out from Her seaside residence to the ship. The spy hurried from his lookout station and reported the fact to the government.

Preparing for an Emergency.

Scene:—Hobron, Newman's Drug Store.
P. C. Jones to Drug Clerk: "I want to get some Arnica, St. Jacob's Oil, Empress Relief, King of Spain, Davis Painkiller, Radway's Ready Relief, a small bottle of Sour Mash and some sticking plaster."
Drug Clerk: "All right, Sir, all right." "Anybody hurt?"
P. C. Jones: "Oh no, I may take a tumble in Washington."

AMERICAN PRESS OPINION.

The publication of Secretary Gresham's letter created another wave of excitement throughout the newspaper press of America. We have received many hundreds of clippings and note that the papers are about evenly divided in opinion, some strong Republican papers supporting Cleveland. Among the leading papers which have strong and stirring articles denouncing the outrage of Stevens and his marplots in Hawaii, are the following:—New York Herald, Times, Nation, Post, News and Daily Mercury, —Boston Herald and Transcript, —Chicago Herald, Despatch, Eve. Journal, Times, —Philadelphia Call, Times, Herald, —Baltimore Sun and News—Minneapolis Times and Journal—Brooklyn Eagle—Macon (Ga) Telegraph—Indianapolis Sentinel and News—Mobile (Ala) Register—Charlestown (S. C.) News and Courier—Omaha Bee—Pittsburg Despatch, Leader—Salt Lake City Herald—Kansas City Times—Newport R. I. News—Newark N. J. Times—Detroit Free Press.

It is further to be noted also that the papers denouncing the Cleveland policy base this "wow" upon the statements of Stevens and Thurston, which are now proved lies.

LITTLE HAWAII.

In the N. Y. Herald we find the report of special Commissioner Blount; from this report it is clearly and most truthfully evident that it was not the people of Hawaii, but the American Minister John L. Stevens who made a revolution possible, and it is also satisfactorily settled that the newly created Provisional Government does not exist legally; it owes its existence entirely to the conspiring, cunning, and display of force by Stevens.

Mr. Wundenberg assistant clerk of the Supreme Court in Hawaii on examination before Mr. Blount, said: That perfect order and peace prevailed at Honolulu when the troops from the "Boston" were landed; the citizens were astonished at this landing of foreign troops and followed them up to learn what the trouble was, and after having satisfied their curiosity they dispersed, some went unconcernedly home, others to the Band concert.

In such a state of mind, in such a meek and good natured manner has never before a people tried to shake off a yoke.

Mr. Blount's labors prove clearly to those who are not wilfully blind that the government was overthrown by Stevens, who, as it appears, acted more in the character of the Czar of Russia than as the representative of the United States of America, and as to whether Stevens in his undertaking was only a fanatical partisan or a paid scoundrel we shall not inquire into that for the present.

Next comes John H. Soper, a citizen of the United States who could be persuaded to accept Command of the revolutionists only after he had the assurance that Mr. Stevens would support the revolution. Without such assistance of the U. S. forces (says Mr. Wundenberg) the revolution would not have occurred, and that should an attempt have been made it would certainly have resulted in the entire destruction of the revolutionists.

That these statements are not colored by party feelings is evidenced by verification of S. M. Damon, the Vice President of the Advisory Council of the Provisional Government.

It is, without a doubt, conforming to republican principles and in harmony with the traditions of our people to help other nations in their struggles for independence; but in this case we doubt if Congress despite their sympathies, would sanction the use of our forces to sustain such principles. Surely, it is not the mission of our people to force upon others republican institutions, should this be our policy, we would invariably be in hot water. Were we to establish a republic in Hawaii by reason of a like logic we would be necessitated to free Canada from England, Cuba from Spain, and Samoa from its King, etc.

Harrison's administration was duped by the fanatic Stevens, who was under the influence of the Hawaiian Missionary element.

To us, it appears, that President Cleveland is determined not to be bamboozled by the Missionaries, and it may be said in his honor and praise that he saved our land from establishing a dangerous precedent.—(California Staats Zeitung.)

Representative Outhwaite's Opinion.

One of the first public men of prominence to publicly condemn the action of Minister Stevens for the unwarranted act of deposing the Queen was Representative Outhwaite, of Ohio. Mr. Outhwaite is now equally enthusiastic in his approval of President Cleveland in correcting the gross outrage. He said to-night: "At the time the provisional government was established through the assistance of the United States minister and the United States troops, I expressed the opinion that it was an outrage upon the laws of nations and of men. The government of Hawaii just previous to that event was one friendly disposed to this country and at peace with us. As I understood it, the constitution of 1887, excluded a large proportion of the native citizens from the rights of citizenship, and that recently the Queen submitted to her cabinet a constitution extending to her subjects these privileges. For some reason this did not suit the class of citizens who have since, for their own benefit and interests, sought annexation with this country, and they raised disturbance and did all in their power to overthrow the existing government. Our minister called ashore the forces of the United States ship, the Boston, which was in the harbor, to assist this revolution. Now, if a similar state of affairs had existed in Cuba, or the Bermudas or Mexico, no minister of the United States would have dared to perpetrate such an outrage. But the Hawaiian government was a feeble one and easily intimidated. "The official communications received at that time indicated that there was no justification for this conduct on the part of our minister. The evidence secured by Commissioner Blount on the recent utterances of Mr. Stevens prove that without the intervention of the United States forces no revolution would have occurred.

"Minister Stevens attempts to justify his conduct on the ground that it was necessary to call the American forces ashore in order to defend the lives and property of American citizens. He did not point out a single act on the part of any one showing that either the lives or the property of American citizens were in danger. In fact, he contradicts himself, for he now says that the provisional government was completely established at the time he recognized it and before he brought the armed forces ashore into Honolulu.

"Justice and right demand that this government act as far as it can in good policy toward undoing any evil that the minister of this country and the naval forces may have promoted. The people of Hawaii should have a fair opportunity to determine whether they shall maintain the present government or restore the monarchy, and if the people of Hawaii decide to restore the monarchy, then it is the duty of this government to recognize it. This talk of our government doing a wicked thing to set up another government in Hawaii of a monarchical character because the islands are a part of the American continent is simply ridiculous. No one proposes to set up another government, but simply to let the people of the Sandwich Islands determine for themselves what kind of government they prefer, and they have just as much right to do that as any other people."
